

Queer Diary Zine-making Workshop

These cosy craft events are well-suited to a cafe/bar, arts/community centre, or library. They usually last about 2 hours.

Participants use writing, drawing and collage to share their own "Queer teenage history" in a mini magazine. Workshops are a space for LGBTQIA+ people to creatively explore their memories, whilst connecting socially, finishing with a zine they take home.

What we need:

Partner with us! Email Josie & Beth at hasbianshow@gmail.com to chat about running a zine-making session.

- Advertising the event: When we work with a new venue/partner, we'll need support to reach LGBTQIA+ people in your area. We can market and ticket our events, but may need your help to share it on any relevant local social media, newsletters, notice boards, etc.
- A room suitable for crafting: We bring all our own craft materials, and tidy them up after. We need a safe, comfy and quiet room, where we can draw, colour, and collage.
- Our own playlist: We use Spotify to create a playlist of teenage 'throwback' songs, so will need to plug in or connect to your speakers.

Booking page for a recent workshop 